WORK SESSION

3. Present and Discuss the Spruill Dog Park Naming Recognition Policy.

Mayor Joe Chow and Mayor Pro Tem Ivan Hughes requested this item for discussion. Mr. Hughes expressed concern over language that was included in the naming and recognition policy/resolution for Spruill Dog Park that was adopted by the Town on February 28, 2017. The policy states that only "dog-centric" businesses may donate to the park and be eligible for recognition on a brick paver. Mayor Pro Tem Hughes expressed that other businesses, such as a bank, would be restricted from making a donation the way the policy is worded. Parks Director Michael Kashuba told the Council that at the time staff felt it best to have a way to "filter" the businesses that could have their name on a brick at the park. Following a brief discussion, Council members generally agreed the "dog-centric" language for businesses should be removed from the policy. A resolution amending the language will be presented at a future meeting.

4. Present and Discuss the Town's Relationship with the Addison Legacy Foundation and Addison Legacy Foundation Bylaws, and Provide an Update on the Big Idea to Include Procurement of Professional Services and Potential Next Steps.

Mayor Pro Tem Ivan Hughes advised that he and Mayor Joe Chow are members of the Addison Legacy Foundation [by virtue of their positions]. He provided some background on the Foundation, adding that the full name is "Addison Legacy Foundation Fund of the Communities Foundation of Texas". The Foundation was established in 2012 as an avenue for people to give back to the Town [monetarily] if they desired and it is not a 501c3 non-profit organization. Funds donated to the Legacy Foundation are managed and invested by the Communities Foundation of Texas at minimal cost to the fund. Bylaws were adopted in September of 2012 however those Bylaws have not been closely followed.

Mayor Pro Tem Hughes said that he and Mayor Chow attended a Legacy Foundation meeting the day before [this meeting] and made contact with the existing board members to confirm their desire to remain on the board and establish their terms. He noted that the board has 11 members, including the Mayor and Mayor Pro Tem of Addison. Draft By-law changes were reviewed. At a future meeting these will be voted upon by the Board members and officers will be elected. During the discussion, Deputy Mayor Pro Tem Duffy expressed that he does not think the Town should be involved with the Foundation in the future, that it should be an independent entity.

Mayor Pro Tem Hughes continued by summarizing that the "Big Idea" project is a conceptual east-west connection over the Dallas North Tollway in Addison. Previously, Addison Legacy Foundation board members had voted to contribute $30,000 toward a consultant to explore the economic feasibility of such a project, draw up concept design drawings and provide a rough estimate of costs. In 2017 the Town of Addison also budgeted $70,000 for a consultant. A consultant was not engaged in 2017 so the funds were budgeted again in 2018. It was proposed that the Urban Land Institute (ULI) Advisory Services perform the professional services needed in lieu of pursuing a Request for Qualification (RFQ) process. ULI Foundation committed to contribute a $20,000 grant toward the project, however ULI's offer will expire at the end of June 2018. The Addison Legacy Foundation voted in January 2018 to increase their contribution to $45,000 (from $30,000). The total fee for ULI would be $135,000 and the Town would manage the consultant's contract.

Several Council members expressed that considerably more information is needed before accepting such a grant with limited time to gather information and the Town expending funds toward this project. Mr. Hughes stated that the board doesn't believe they nor the Town are ready to engage in a contract yet. It was suggested that a "working group" be created to investigate the project further. Council direction was requested as to how to proceed. Mayor Chow indicated that the grant deadline should not be a factor since more information is needed prior to engaging a consultant. He suggested the Town communicate with the City of Dallas, the North Texas Tollway Authority (NTTA), Oncor and possibly affected land owners to share the concept and gather information from those entities. City Manager Pierson confirmed the Council's general opinion is that the Town is not ready to move forward within the window of time prior to the expiration of ULI's grant availability. Council can discuss the matter again after the background work is done.

Work Session adjourned at 8:20 p.m.

Regular Session began at 8:25 p.m.

Assistant Director of Development Services Charles Goff reviewed this item. He stated the Race Trac has requested they be allowed to post fuel price per gallon signs on the canopy above the fuel pumps rather than their current location on the pump pillars. In addition, Race Trac is requesting permission to install a second sign on the exterior facade of the building; the ordinance only allows one.
